

A Safe Start to Summer

Working together to reopen Indianapolis

THE CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS

We're Reopening Indy— And We Need Your Help

Marion County is making progress in the fight against COVID-19—which means we can start reopening for business on Friday, May 15.

The plan is to open Marion County in phases, with the next phase targeted to begin June 1 if data allows. But the virus is still in our community—so we have to keep making progress before we can move on to the next phase.

That means smart social distancing practices are as important as ever. This all works only if we keep working together!

What's Opening First:

Nonessential retail stores may reopen at 50% capacity with social distancing.

Beginning May 22, restaurants may open for outdoor seating with strict social distancing guidelines.

Malls and individual retail stores within malls may open at 50% capacity with appropriate social distancing.

Public gatherings, including religious services, may occur with up to 25 people.

What's Opening Next:

Indoor seating at restaurants to begin at 50% capacity as soon as June 1, if data allows.

Salons and other personal services are targeted for June 1 reopening with social distancing.

Non-essential manufacturing and industrial activities are targeted for June 1 reopening if data allows.

Bars, theaters, gyms, museums, and other establishments are slated for reopening in future phases.

A Healthy You is Healthy for Business

Wearing a face covering in public, frequent handwashing, maintaining six feet between yourself and others, and other social distancing practices are strongly encouraged.

Public gatherings are limited to 25 people or fewer, but high-risk individuals and those over the age of 65 are encouraged to stay home.

Remote working for workers who can do so is recommended.

Travel should be restricted to essential trips only.

Want to know more about what we're doing to support Indianapolis residents, businesses, and workers? Go to indy.gov/covid to learn more. And help us have a safe start to summer in Indy.

We're Reopening Indy— One Smart Step at a Time

Marion County is making progress in the fight against COVID-19—which means we can start reopening for business on Friday, May 15.

New Programs to Help Us Reopen

We'll be launching a program to provide face coverings so that any Marion County resident who doesn't have a mask can get one free of charge.

In partnership with the Indy Chamber, we will be launching a program to provide reimbursement for small businesses that must procure PPE to reopen. Find out more at response.indychamber.com/restart.

We're exploring innovative ways to allow restaurants and other businesses to offer improved social distancing through expanded outdoor seating. Visit indy.gov/dineout to find out more.

What's First to Open

Nonessential retail stores may reopen at 50% capacity in the store at a time and must observe social distancing.

Restaurants may open for outdoor seating with strict social distancing beginning Friday, May 22—with indoor seating at 50% possible as soon as June 1.

Malls and individual retail stores within malls may open at 50% capacity with appropriate social distancing. Movie theaters, salons, and gyms inside malls must remain closed. No inside dining is permitted at food courts, but carryout is permitted.

Liquor stores may reopen with 50% capacity at a time and must observe social distancing.

Salons, gyms, and museums must remain closed.

Continued Reopening Depends On...

Continued adherence to good social distancing practices, including wearing face masks, frequent handwashing, maintaining social distance, and other social distancing practices

Continued data showing a slowing of the virus spread.

Testing capacity of at least 1,500 people a day in Marion County

Expanded contact tracing for Marion County

Want to know more about what we're doing to support Indianapolis residents, businesses, and workers? Go to indy.gov/covid to learn more. And help us have a safe start to summer in Indy.